Scope and Contents

The Pennsylvania Housing Finance Agency (PHFA) is both a public corporation and governmental office. The Agency works to provide affordable homeownership and rental housing options for older adults, low- and moderate-income families, and people with special needs. Through its financing programs for home mortgages, rental housing, and various related support programs throughout Pennsylvania communities, promotes community stabilization, revitalization, and economic development while enhancing the availability of high quality, affordable homes and apartments for commonwealth citizens. It does this by providing mortgage capital to homebuyers, to developers of rental housing for older adults, people with disabilities, and families with modest incomes, and by funding special initiatives to address housing and community needs and supportive services. The Agency administers Homeowners' Emergency Mortgage Assistance Program which provides loan assistance to eligible homeowners facing foreclosure due to circumstances beyond their control who have a reasonable prospect of repaying their mortgages.

The publications of the Pennsylvania Housing Finance Agency contain annual reports, other reports, newsletters, educational guides, standards, and strategic plans. Selected topics from these publications include PHARE, low-income housing, and elder housing.

Biographical / Historical

The Pennsylvania Housing Finance Agency was created in 1972 by the General Assembly. Act 91 of 1983 created the Homeowners' Emergency Mortgage Assistance Program, which is administered by PHFA.

Conditions Governing Use
